Good morning,

Welcome!

We are here together today to officially initiate the project which brings representatives from 5 different schools and European countries to our School Group in Ferreira do Zêzere.

The Erasmus projects are an option taken under the education strategy adopted by our school. Our application to the Key 2 of the Erasmus + 2019 shows our commitment to enabling teachers and students to contact with different social, cultural and academic realities; strategic partnerships and knowledge of different pedagogic organisations - an exchange of beliefs to empower collaborative projects.

- These projects help building the flexible curriculum of DL 55, crossing knowledge of different subjects, enriching our idea of Citizenship and turning it into an active concept, redefining the profile of the student of the 21st Century, promoting creativity and involving the community.

What else may one hope for?

We hope for your contribution on the creation of the Inclusive School environment of DL 54.

In order to achieve this we have chosen contemporary issues like the one bringing us together here today.

“Ethos of Europe - Acting for integration”
Our theme invokes the realities of emigration within and abroad, of mass population migration both inside and outside Europe.

Ethos is a greek word with two different spellings and meanings. On one hand it relates the place of human kind and animals to their actions and lifestyles, on the other, with a different spelling it means an habit, the need for action and to act honourably and wisely.

Ethos is therefore a path, the habits of conduct which guides a community in their actions.

Sociologically speaking Ethos means the social and cultural identity of a community. So, in other words the title of our project would read Cultural and Social Identity of Europe - Acting for integration.

Throughout this week all our students, together, will think, act, discover and show us how this integration is desired and possible

We are truly delighted to have you here and will do our very best to give you the warmest welcome.

Enjoy your stay!
